

2.7 Instanced Dungeon Changes

While the two new Instanced Dungeons, Padmarashka's Cave and the Crucible Coliseum, are the two focal points of 2.7, there are a handful of changes for other Instanced Dungeons, including the option to skip to Stage 7 of the Empyrean Crucible, and refinements to the Stormwing Quest chain in Beshmundir Temple.

Empyrean Crucible

Players can now begin the Empyrean Crucible at Stage 7, however, in doing so the points that would have been earned from Stages 1-6 are forfeited.

While the loss of points is a disadvantage, the final Stages of the Empyrean Crucible have received a few refinements to offset the loss of points, including:

- Vanktrist (the final boss of Stage 10 Round 5) now awards more points when defeated.
- The Lightning Drakie from the Stage 9 Bonus Round now has a chance to drop the Tahabata Repelled Scroll, which reduces the damage Tahabata Pyrelord inflicts on Stage 10 Round 4.
- Worthiness Tickets now drop from the Ornate Treasure Chest at the end of Stage 7 Round 5.

In addition to some fine tuning the Empyrean Crucible, 2.7 introduces new loot, including weapons, armor, and Platinum Medals, which can be purchased with Crucible Insignias and Courage Insignias.

Stormwing is now accessible from the Rift Orb without completing the Stormwing Quest chain.

Players who complete the Stormwing Quest chain will be able to receive a new Quest from Outremus in Inggison Illusion Fortress or Richelle in Gelkmaros Fortress.
